

Statement of Ross Coe

On or about the 15th of January 1903 J. M. Minter and I were hunting. After we had left Minter's camp about two miles, we heard the report of a fire arm. It was snowing and we could not locate the sound, so we kept right on in the same direction that we were going and in a short time saw two Mexicans, at a distance of about 100 yards, and recognized one to be David Ballascus; the other we did not recognize, as they were riding off in a gallop and he did not look back. We then rode up to where we saw them start from. Looking to our left we saw a two year old red bald faced heifer, tied to a tree. The heifer was branded V. 4. V. on the left ^{shoulder} side & hip. We examined her and found that she had been shot just above the left eye, with what we took to be ~~with~~ a 38 revolver. We examined the wound closely and found the skull to be fractured. I told Minter if he would stay and watch the heifer I would go and bring Harry Aguayo.
Before turning the heifer loose Aguayo examined her. Then Aguayo took the ~~the~~ trail of the two men, who went in the direction of Ballascus's wood camp.

Ross Coe

Statement of Ross Coe.

On or about the 15th of January 1903 J. M. Minter and I were hunting. After we had left Minter's camp about two miles, we heard the report of a firearm. It was snowing and we could not locate the sound, so we kept right on in the same direction that we were going and in a short time saw two Mexicans, at a distance of about 100 yards, and recognized one to be Davie Ballascus; the other we did not recognize, as they were riding off in a gallop and he did not look back. We then rode up to where we saw them start from. Looking to our left we saw a two year old red, bald faced, heifer tied to a tree. The heifer was branded V. 4. V. on the left shoulder, side and hip. We examined her and found that she had been shot just above the left eye, with what we took to be a 38 revolver. We examined the wound closely and found the skull to be fractured. I told Minter if he would stay and watch the heifer I would go and bring Harry Aguayo. Before turning the heifer loose Aguayo examined her. Then Aguayo took the trail of the two men, who went in the direction of Ballascus's wood camp.

Statement of Ross Coe

On or about the 15th of January 1903 J.M. Minter and I were hunting. After we had left Minter's camp about two miles, we heard the report of a firearm. It was snowing and we could not locate the sound, so we kept right on in the same direction that we were going and in a short time saw two Mexicans., at a distance of about of about 100 yards, and recognized one to be Davie Billascas, the other we did not recognize, as they were riding off in a gallop and he did not look back. We then rode up to where we saw them start from. Looking to our left we saw a two year old, red bald faced, heifer tied to a tree. The heifer was branded V4V on the left shoulder, side and hip. We examined her and found that she had been shot just above the left eye, with what we too to be a 38 revolver. We examined the wound closely and found the skull to be fractured. I told Minter if he would go and bring Harry Aguayo. Before turning the heifer loose Aguayo examined her. Then Aguauo took the trail of the two men, who went in the direction of Billascase's wood camp.